BEV'S BUZZ

Wow, what an evening!

We started off with a moment of silence for Jean and Jon in memory of her mother. We hope Jean is doing better. After the meeting the fun began with Joyce Schultz's, smell, see, feel and taste. I do believe Dan Shankel got almost all of them right followed close by Betty, Barb and Rita.

THANK YOU to Barb and Rita for the pies, cake, cookies to munch on while the rest tried there wits with Joyce's smell, see, feel and taste.

The plant exchange was also very interesting. It seems like a lot of plants of Howard's made it up to the raffle table. Beautiful plants Howard!! You really have a GREEN THUMB.

Like you told me, you're in your yard all day because it changes so fast. You even said that the bee's have certain flowers they like that other bee's don't. Of the three bee's you mentioned of, honey, wasp, hornet they each have there own type of flower or plant they like.

The other plants were also very nice and a good exchange took place.

THANK YOU so much to Grandma Madeleine for the special wall hangings. It sure was a surprise. They will have a special place in the homes to hang. Such a surprise to receive something hand made by a very special person. WE LOVE YOU and once again Thank You.

Next month is our eaten-meeting. Also dress up as a favorite rose. PARTY TIME MATT!!!

We will have Matt there to tell us about new roses and to possibly get a list going.

We wanted Terry Moore from Antique Apples to come in and give a talk on the different types of apples but he lost 1200 trees to inclement weather. So he asked to be penciled in for next year Oct.. So he is in for Oct. 2011. Lets hope the weather is better next year at the start of spring. I know we had frost in early June here at home. Was a surprise to see..

See ya next month and stay warm with the roller coaster of weather now here.

DON'T FORGET a dish to pass for HALLOWEEN PARTY.... Bev

Clint's Clipping's

Hi Everyone!

Just a really short column this Month...Make sure your humming bird feeders are cleaned and put up for the year, bird baths are cleaned and put up...start covering your roses with leaves...move house plants in...you know...all the normal fall stuff. Enjoy the cool weather and don't forget....take pictures of your roses for the November meeting!

See you October 25, 2010 at the Zauel Library. Matt with Abele will be there with some shocking news as well! See you then!

THE GARDEN GURU BETTY WATTERS

At our last meeting, Barb Vankus gave us some important info about fall watering. I would like to tell you that the water-fertilizer wand she spoke of are kind of hard to come by. After quite a bit of checking I have only found two sources. One is McDonalds nursery and the other is Menards.

I have always been told to deep water all fall transplants up until Thanksgiving. Remember when we didn't get our roses from Carl Pallek in Canada until the week of Thanksgiving. that was really hard because there was always so much to do in the house that time too.

It is easy to fill up the yard waste bags now. Some garden tasks that can be done in fall will improve the garden and prepare for winter and be ready for spring. No, No, do not cut down your roses yet! See Ya! BETTY Sad news to report: Joe Enders has passed away. He was a great Judge and fellow Rosarian and a great friend. Rest in Peace Joey.

CR Report: Roses in Review was due Tuesday September 21, 2010. You can fill it out online as well. They should still take them if they are just a few days late. After the first frost before the ground really freezes make sure and water to at least 18". If you have things sitting in ball and burlap there is a special interment that you can use to apply 18" of water to the root system. If you would like more information about it please ask Barb V.

Old Business: Janet W was speaking to a judge who is from Grand Rapids about our RRD problem. Grand Rapids doesn't have the problem as badly as we do. Japanese Beetles were worse in some areas and other areas had none.

New Business: August 27, 2010 Bad Axe rose show was in the Saginaw and Bay City Newspaper. Jackie is going to ask Irv who he speaks to about getting their information published in news.

Meeting was adjourned at 7:06 P. M. Seconded by: Florence Bruno

Respectfully submitted,

Corresponding Secretary: Clint Bremer
